The Clubhouse Project

Organisation details

Description of activity

The Clubhouse Project is a life skills day service provider for adults with moderate to severe learning disabilities and is situated in the beautiful surroundings of St. George's College in Addlestone, Surrey.

Open 51 weeks a year – Monday to Friday from 9am to 4pm

The people we support are encouraged to participate, develop skills and gain confidence.

Seasonal events are organised throughout the year to sell our upcycled products.

A wide range of activities with local community involvement and volunteering.

Advice and practical support for families and carers.

Close working partnership with external agencies to ensure information and advice is available individually.
