Kids Come First separated parents support & teaching workshops

Organisation details

Description of activity

Kids Come First offers bespoke specialist support for separated parents. Our workshops deliver a child-focused training program with expert guidance & advice to help parents cope better and move towards more positive separated co-parenting.

Who are we?

Kids Come First is a community interest company dedicated to providing specialist support for parents who are separating/divorcing. Our unique, child-focused teaching program offers expert guidance on helping children through separation and helping parents create collaborative co-parenting partnerships. Our professional adult trainers are experienced in family mediation & child counselling in order to deliver customised support during all stages of the family transition process.

How will the Kids Come First program help?

Becoming a separated parent is a dramatic change in anyone's life. Many parents find themselves struggling to establish a positive, effective co-parenting relationship with their former partner beyond the separation. This can have a profoundly negative impact on their children. We aim to help parents find collaborative solutions and keep matters out of the family courts by providing the right support and guidance when parents need it most! Our mission is to help you cope well - so your children can too!

What are my options?

Parents can choose to book either a private solo workshop or a joint co-parenting consultation to attend together if they both agree this is the right approach for them.

How do I make an enquiry?

Email kidscomefirstuk@mail.com or call 0778 9497275 for a confidential chat.

Where & when are the workshops held?

Our workshop venues in Clapham (SW4); Esher (KT10); Hammersmith (W6); Hampton (TW12); Richmond (TW1) are accessible to parents in London & Surrey communities. Appointments are available Mon to Sat (9am–9pm) to accommodate working parents. NOTE: Skype workshops are available for parents across the UK & abroad.

How much does it cost to book a workshop?

Our charges vary depending on location as follows:

- Solo workshop fees from £195 - £250 (2 hr session)
- Joint workshop fees from £150 - £190 per parent (2 hr session).
- Group workshop fee (where applicable) is £150 per parent.

What if I am already in Family Court proceedings?

Every parental separation is unique so a specialist support & training session helps you focus on more positive solo parenting to support your children and demonstrate an understanding of their needs. We issue an attendance certificate on completion.

What if I live too far away to attend a workshop?

You can access Kids Come First training or Separation S.O.S. coaching sessions via Skype to discuss issues arising from your relationship breakdown and dealing with all aspects of separated parenting. We offer guidance on managing conflict and support you through any legal processes you're experiencing.
